JONI TAYLOR

HEAD COACH

Texas A&M named 2021 SEC Coach of the Year Joni Taylor as the eighth women's basketball head coach in program history on March 23, 2022.

Taylor succeeded Naismith Hall of Famer Gary Blair and inherited a program that was one of eight schools in the past 20 years to have a national title. Over the previous 19 seasons, the program won five conference titles and reached the NCAA Tournament 16 times.

Taylor is fresh off leading the Maroon & White to a 10 win jump from year one to year two at the helm. It was tied for the biggest increase in victories in the SEC since the 1981-82 season with Women's Basketball Hall of Famer Carolyn Peck (Florida - 2002-04). She also led the program to its first NCAA Tournament appearance since the 2020-21 campaign and its second-straight SEC Tournament quarterfinal trip. During her second year leading the Aggies, she was named as an assistant coach to the 2024 USA Basketball Women's National Team, which will be competing in Paris in July and August of 2024.

In her first year in Aggieland, Taylor tutored two players to the All-SEC Freshman Team for the in program history. She also led A&M to the quarterfinals of the 2023 SEC Tournament, becoming the first-ever No. 13 seed to reach the quarters.

The Meridian, Mississippi, native spent the first seven years of her head coaching career leading the Georgia women's basketball program. She amassed 140 victories with a .651 winning percentage and 64 wins in SEC play. Taylor took the Lady Bulldogs to four NCAA Tournaments, including top-four seeds in 2018 and 2021.

Taylor was named the SEC Coach of the Year and a finalist for the Naismith Coach of the Year after leading her team to a 21-7 record and 10-5 ledger in SEC action in 2020-21. She was the youngest coach of the year honoree in the SEC since 2010. In 2021, Taylor led the Lady Bulldogs to the SEC Tournament Championship game for the first time since 2004. Taylor, and South Carolina's Dawn Staley, became the first pair of African American female head coaches to coach against one another in the SEC Tournament title game.

She coached four players who were taken in the WNBA Draft, with Jenna Staiti and Que Morrison having an opportunity to add to that number in this year's draft. She mentored the program's only three SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year selections (Marjorie Butler – 2016, Haley Clark – 2018, Mikayla Coombs - 2022). Taylor saw a Lady Bulldog featured on the conference all-defensive team in each of her seven years at the helm of Georgia, including Morrison, who earned three all-defensive selections and was the 2021 SEC Defensive Player of the Year. Taylor led 19 players to All-SEC selections during her run at Georgia.

Taylor is no stranger to succeeding legends. She served as an assistant from 2011-12 under Women's Basketball Hall of Famer Andy Landers and was eventually elevated to associate head coach from 2012-15. After Landers' retirement, Taylor took over the program as its second head coach in school history. Taylor went on to produce a 21-10 record in her first season as head coach and won the 2016 Maggie Dixon National Rookie Coach of the Year honor.

Before Georgia, Taylor served as an assistant coach at LSU (2010-11) under Naismith Hall-of-Fame coach Van Chancellor, Louisiana Tech (2005-07) and Troy (2002-05), and as an associate head coach at Alabama (2008-10) and Louisiana Tech (2007-08). At LSU and Alabama, Taylor helped recruit top-five prospects in 2010 and 2011, respectively. She carried that recruiting prowess into her career as a coach, where she signed three top-15 classes in the last four seasons, including the No. 7 signing class in 2022.

On the international level, Taylor has served USA Basketball on a variety of occasions. She started off as a court coach at the 2018 USA U18 National Team Trials and then won gold as an assistant with the 2021 U19 World Cup Team. Taylor won gold as an assistant coach for the USA Women's National Team at the 2022 FIBA World Cup and when she head coached the 2022 USA Basketball Women's U18 National Team to a 6-0 mark in Buenos Aires, Argentina. In 2023, she added a fourth gold medal to her USA Basketball resume with a spotless 7-0 record as the head coach of the American U19 team at the 2023 FIBA World Cup. Her fifth gold medal came at the 2024 Paris Olympics where she served as an assistant coach for the Women's National Team, helping them capture their eighth-consecutive Olympic gold medal.

A four-year letterwinner at Alabama (1998-01), Taylor earned her bachelor's degree in education in 2002. She helped lead the Crimson Tide to four postseason runs and recorded 716 points, 555 rebounds and 103 blocked shots, which ranks fourth in the Crimson Tide's record book.

While at Alabama, she was recognized as one of the most influential African Americans on campus in 2001, earned three SEC Community Service honors (1999, 2000, 2001) and was awarded a post-graduate scholarship from the SEC.

The Meridian High School product was the 1997 Mississippi Gatorade Player of the Year. She also won three state titles in track & field and was selected as the school's Homecoming Queen.

Taylor and her husband Darius have two daughters, Jacie and Drew.

CHELSEA NEWTON

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

Chelsea Newton, a 15-year coaching veteran, was named associate head coach at Texas A&M in April of 2022.

In her first season at A&M, Newton helped the Aggies land the No. 20 recruiting class in the country and the No. 1 player in the state of Texas for the first time in program history. Under her assistance, the team saw two players make the SEC All-Freshman Team for the first time ever and A&M became the first 13 seed to ever make the quarterfinals of the SEC Tournament.

Newton joined Joni Taylor in Aggieland after spending the previous seven seasons as an assistant at Georgia with Taylor. She helped the Lady Bulldogs land three top-15 recruiting classes and earn four NCAA Tournament bids. The Monroe, Louisiana, native comes from the coaching tree of Naismith Basketball Hall of Famer C. Vivian Stringer. Newton played under the legend from 2001-05 and coached on her staff from 2010-2015 at Rutgers.

Newton is widely regarded as a star among today's coaches and brings a wealth of knowledge to the court. She has coached an impressive list of 14 WNBA players and 19 all-conference selections in 13 seasons at Rutgers and Georgia.

Newton's on-court coaching success and her ability to attract some of the nation's top talent made her a vital part of the Lady Bulldog basketball program. As the team's recruiting coordinator, she helped Georgia sign three highly rated classes in the final four years at UGA. Additionally, she helped land two top-three recruiting classes at Rutgers. In all, Newton has helped sign 13 top-100 prospects and six top-20 recruits during her career.

Under her guidance, former Scarlet Knight standouts Kahleah Copper and Betnijah Laney were selected in the first round of the WNBA Draft. Newton also helped sign the No. 1 point guard in the country, Tyler Scaife, in 2013. She then helped develop Scaife into the American Athletic Conference Rookie of the Year in 2013-14 – the same season Rutgers won the WNIT Championship.

At Georgia, Newton helped guide the program through continued success. In 2021, the Lady Bulldogs advanced to the SEC Tournament finals for the first time since 2004 and earned a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament.

The 2017-18 Georgia squad finished second in the SEC standings and earned a top-4 national seed on its way to the largest single-season turnaround in Georgia basketball history.

Her expertise on the court comes from an equally impressive playing career. Under Stringer, Newton was a four-year starter and was selected as the team's Most Valuable Player in 2004 and 2005. In 2005, she was named Big East Defensive Player of the Year and was tabbed both First-Team All-Met and Third-Team All-Big East. She was also staff when Rutgers finished as NCAA National Runner-Up in 2007.

Newton was selected by the Sacramento Monarchs with the No. 22 overall pick in the second round of the 2005 WNBA Draft and helped the Monarchs to the 2005 WNBA Championship while also earning a spot on the 2005 WNBA All-Rookie Team. In 2007, Newton garnered All-WNBA Defensive Second Team honors.

Newton also enjoyed a successful overseas career. During the 2005-06 season, she played for Raanana Hertziliya in Israel and Lotos Gdynia in Poland. After serving as director of player development at Rutgers for the Scarlet Knights during their NCAA runner-up campaign in 2006-07, Newton played two seasons in Italy with Carispe La Spezia in 2007-08 and with Limatic Umbertide in 2009-10.

Newton was a WBCA and Parade All-American at Carroll High School. She was a three-time All-State selection, was twice named Northeast Louisiana Player of the Year and was valedictorian of her senior class.

ROBERT MOSLEY

ASSISTANT COACH

Southeastern Conference coaching veteran Robert Mosley joined the women's basketball staff in April 2022 as an assistant coach.

Mosley helped A&M in his first season in Aggieland become the first No. 13 seed to advance to the quarterfinals of the SEC Tournament. Additionally, he assisted in the signing of the No. 20-ranked recruiting class by ESPN.com.

Mosley spent the previous 10 seasons as an assistant at Georgia, seven of which with Joni Taylor as the leader of the Lady Bulldogs. The Mobile, Alabama, native helped lead UGA to five NCAA Tournament runs, including an Elite Eight berth in 2013. Throughout his coaching career, he has helped lead his team to seven postseason tournaments and mentored 24 All-SEC selections.

While at Georgia, Mosley was responsible for mentoring the post position. He coached WNBA Draft picks Mackenzie Engram (2018) and Caliya Robinson (2019). He also helped develop Jenna Staiti into a two-time All-SEC performer, including a first-team selection at the conclusion of the 2021-22 season.

Prior to Athens, Mosley was a member of the Alabama coaching staff from 2010-12, where he made an immediate impact on the Tide's fortunes. Alabama advanced to the Sweet 16 of the 2011 Women's National Invitational Tournament, the program's first postseason appearance since 2002. Individually, Tierney Jenkins was named first-team All-SEC after leading the league and finishing fourth nationally in double-doubles. In addition, Kaneisha Horn was named to the Freshman All-SEC Team.

From 2004-10, Mosley served as head coach at Ramsay High School in Birmingham, Alabama, where he led the Rams to four 5A state titles in seven seasons. Ramsay advanced to an additional 5A Final Four during that span and won five Birmingham City Championships. Mosley compiled a 187-48 record at Ramsay and coached more than 20 players who went on to play at the collegiate level, headlined by Katherine Graham (LSU), Kaneisha Horn (Alabama), Samone Kennedy (South Carolina) and Sammeika Thrash (Rutgers).

Mosley was tabbed Alabama's 5A Coach of the Year four-consecutive years (2004-07) and was named 2006 National Coach of the Year by the National Federation of High School Coaches Association. Off the court, Mosley has been equally as active, serving as a lecturer at various conferences and coaching clinics and was a member of the selection committee for the Women's Basketball Coaches Association High School All-America Game.

Mosley received his associate's degree in science from Bishop State Community College in 1995 and his bachelor's degree in social science education from Miles College in 1999. Mosley is a member of the Miles' Sports Hall of Fame, where he was inducted in 2010.

RODNEY HILL

ASSISTANT COACH

Rodney Hill joined Joni Taylor's women's basketball staff as an assistant coach in May 2023.

In his first year on staff at Texas A&M, Hill helped lead the Aggies to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2021. The Aggies also won 10 more games from the year prior to his appointment and advanced to the quarterfinals of the 2024 SEC Tournament.

Hill came to Aggieland after spending the previous season with the TCU women's basketball program as an assistant coach. Prior to his time in Fort Worth, Hill served as the head coach for SA Finest for two seasons where her helped guide the 2021 3SSB 17U team to a national title.

During the 2019-20 campaign, Hill was Lamar's assistant coach/recruiting coordinator and from 2017-19 was the head junior varsity coach and assistant coach for varsity at Bishop Lynch High School. The Dallas native earned his first full-time collegiate coaching job during the 2016-17 season when he was hired at Texas State.

Hill also brings experience from the WNBA to the Brazos Valley as he was the assistant director of operations for the Dallas Wings in the summer of 2016. Prior to his time in the W, he had his first stint with the Horned Frogs during the 2015-16 season as the video coordinator. Hill cut his teeth in the collegiate ranks as a graduate assistant with Urbana University in 2014-15.

The Dallas native is a Former Student, having received his bachelor's degree in sociology from Texas A&M in 2014.

TREV ALBERTS

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

A veteran administrator and College Football Hall of Famer, Trev Alberts was hired as Texas A&M's Director of Athletics on March 13, 2024 after a successful three-year stint at his alma mater, the University of Nebraska.

Under Alberts' leadership, Nebraska posted back-to-back top 30 finishes in the Learfield Directors' Cup for the first time in a decade, including a No. 22 effort in 2023-24. It was the Cornhuskers' highest finish in the Directors' Cup since 2010.

Nebraska's athletic achievements in 2023-24 included a NCAA top-10 finishes by seven teams: women's volleyball (No. 2), men's gymnastics (No. 4), women's soccer (No. 5), women's bowling (No. 5), women's rifle (No. 8), men's wrestling (No. 9) and women's track & field (No. 9). The Huskers tallied Big Ten regular season or tournament championships in women's soccer, volleyball, men's gymnastics, men's outdoor track & field and baseball.

In his first season at Nebraska in 2021-22, Alberts helped the Huskers navigate the ever-changing landscape of Name, Image and Likeness (NIL) guidelines for the benefit of Nebraska student-athletes. He led the development of the N-Vest Nebraska program to award $5,980 per year to student-athletes who meet academic benchmarks. Alberts also spearheaded the charge to complete the fundraising for Nebraska's Go Big Project with Phase I, which included a new football facility, being completed in the spring of 2024. The project will also house academic, life skills, nutrition and support services for all Nebraska student-athletes.

A tireless worker who puts both the interests of student-athletes and fans first, Alberts helped orchestrate a qualitative survey of Nebraska's fan base to help shape the future of Memorial Stadium's game-day atmosphere. Alberts also focused much of his time on developing the first strategic plan for Nebraska Athletics in 15 years. He committed himself to providing intense support and a unifying vision for Nebraska's coaches across all sports.

He continued to make a mark on Nebraska Athletics in his second year. Alberts conducted a thorough, nationwide search for a new leader for the Husker football program in the fall of 2022 that resulted in the hiring of Matt Rhule as Nebraska's new head coach. Rhule has a proven track record as a program builder at the college level, winning conference championships at both Temple and Baylor. Since his hiring, Rhule has energized the Nebraska fan base and attracted top-25 recruiting classes to the Husker program in 2023 and 2024.

Alberts also spearheaded a new 15-year multimedia right agreement between Nebraska Athletics and Playfly Sports, an emerging leader in sports marketing, media and technology. The partnership was one of the nation's most comprehensive multimedia rights agreements and has a total value for $301 million for Nebraska over the life of the contract.

Academically, Nebraska student-athletes scored a 94% graduation success rate (GSR) in 2023, which continued a four-year streak of 94% or higher scores for the Cornhuskers. It was the sixth consecutive year that Nebraska's all student-athlete GSR was ranked in the top 15 among the 111 public FBS institutions.

Alberts' impact on college athletics stretched beyond the Nebraska campus. A respected leader at the Big Ten and national level, Alberts served on both the NCAA's Division I Football Oversight Committee and the NCAA Division I Competition Committee.

Alberts' tenure leading UNO athletics was marked by successes in competition and in academics; by transitioning the university's athletic programs to NCAA Division I in 2011; and by establishing new homes for many UNO athletics teams, including Baxter Arena, the Maverick Park baseball/softball complex and the soccer pitch at Caniglia Field.

Alberts took the bold step in announcing that Omaha would reclassify from Division II to Division I in all sports in 2011 and simultaneously securing conference affiliation with the Summit League for all of the department's then-Division II programs. His vision for UNO's reclassifying teams was demonstrated even before the four-year transition period had ended. The Omaha baseball team won back-to-back Summit League regular-season championships in 2013 and 2014, while the men's basketball team made its first Division I postseason appearance in 2014 with a berth in the CollegeInsider.com Postseason Tournament.

During UNO's time in the Division I ranks under Alberts tenure, the Mavericks had six teams and four student-athletes qualify for the NCAA Tournament, including hockey advancing to the Frozen Four in 2015 and men's soccer reaching the second round of the NCAA Tournament in the spring of 2021. He also expanded opportunities, adding men's golf and men's soccer in 2011, and Omaha began a men's swimming and diving program in 2021-22.

Throughout his tenure in Omaha, Alberts was focused on enhancing the student-athlete experience, including the construction and staffing of the Hamilton Academic Excellence Room and the development of the Ethel S. Abbott Student-Athlete Development Wing. Those efforts paid off in Nebraska-Omaha student-athletes posting consistent collective semester grade point averages above 3.3 for 18 consecutive semesters, including at least a 3.5 in each of his final three semesters.

The facilities around Omaha Athletics received a major uplift during his tenure. Maverick Park opened in March of 2021 to rave reviews as the home to the Mavericks' baseball and softball programs. Funding for the complex, which includes a 1,500-seat baseball facility and a 650-seat softball facility, were raised privately and provided both programs a permanent on-campus home for the first time.

Another crowning achievement was the opening of Baxter Arena in 2015. Alberts directed efforts to secure community support and funding to build the on-campus arena, which allowed the nationally prominent hockey program to play on campus and also serve as the home of the men's and women's basketball and volleyball programs. Caniglia Field underwent renovations in 2012, making it one of the finest collegiate soccer facilities in the country, highlighted by a FIFA 2-star rated playing surface and one of the largest LED videoboards in a soccer-only college facility.

Alberts' work on behalf of hockey, UNO's established Division I sport, also paid dividends. He successfully guided the Mavericks into the new National Collegiate Hockey Conference in 2013-14. The following year, Omaha reached the 2015 NCAA Frozen Four.

In addition, Alberts and his team led Omaha Athletics into a partnership with Learfield, a national leader in the marketing of collegiate athletics, and developed Omaha Sports Properties. As the exclusive corporate sponsorship sales unit for UNO Athletics, Omaha Sports Properties further enhanced revenue and increased brand prominence locally, regionally and nationally.

As part of UNO's reclassification to Division I, Alberts oversaw the rebranding of UNO athletics with new primary and secondary logos and a greater focus on strengthening the Maverick brand both regionally and nationally.

As a student-athlete, Alberts was an All-American on and off the football field as a Husker Blackshirt. He was Nebraska's first Butkus Award winner in 1993, helping Coach Tom Osborne's Huskers to an undefeated regular season and an Orange Bowl appearance against Florida State. A first-team All-American by every major publication in 1993, he was also the Football News National Defensive Player of the Year, the Big Eight Male Athlete of the Year, and the Big Eight Defensive Player of the Year. His No. 34 jersey was retired at the 1994 Red-White Spring Game. In 2015, he was elected to the College Football Hall of Fame.

Off the field, Alberts earned the NCAA's highest honor, The Today's Top Six Award. A three-time Academic All-Big Eight honoree, he was a CoSIDA Academic All-American in 1993. He graduated from Nebraska before his senior season.

Alberts was the fifth pick in the 1994 NFL Draft by the Indianapolis Colts and played for the Colts until 1996. Following his NFL career, he served as an analyst on college and professional football games for major national networks, including ESPN, CNN/SI and CBS Sports Network.

Alberts and his wife Angela have three children – Chase (and his wife, Cassie), Ashtynne (and her husband, Riley) and Breanna. Trev and Angela have one grandson, Walker John.

Communities In Schools

In schools to unlock potential.

At the beginning of his freshman year, Jalen's ambition wavered. He lost sight of his goals and found himself straying from his path. Toriano from Communities In Schools became his trusted guide, working with Jalen to improve his attendance, raise his GPA and set clear goals for the future. Now a senior, Jalen is a first-chair trombone player and drum major in his high school marching band. He's exploring musical scholarship opportunities for college, and he has dreams of becoming a U.S. Marshal. There are millions of at-risk kids like Jalen who need a caring adult to help them stay in school and succeed in life.
